TRUMAN GETS GREEK AID BILL

Congress Sends Measure To White House While Relief Debated.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15 Congress sent to the White House today legislation authorizing a $400,000,000 program of financial and limited military aid to bulwark Greece and Turkey against Communism.

The house, and then the senate, quickly approved the bill compromising minor differences between the house and senate measures.

On another bill to provide funds for relief of six countries in Europe and Asia, President Truman urged congress again to vote the full $350,000,000 asked, saying "the peace of the world can be realized only when people are free from the fear of hunger."

The new appeal, in a letter transmitting the tenth quarterly UNRRA report, came only a day after the senate agreed to provide the full amount Mr. Truman asked.

The house, however, has voted to cut the fund for feeding the hungry in Austria, Greece, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Trieste and China to $200,000,000. Hence the two versions will have to be compromised.

Truman Renews Request

Mr. Truman also renewed his request that congress authorize this country to join the international refugee organization, to be composed of United Nations members, and give it $75,000,000 to help care for persons driven from their homes by the war.

"The United States," Mr. Truman's letter said, "has resources needed by war-devastated countries to carry them through this year into a new year in which most of them may hope that they will achieve economic recovery." He continued:

"The goal is close. The United States can help many countries reach that goal in a few more months through the supplies which the joint resolution on relief assistance will provide. I have no doubt that the American people desire that we finish what UNRRA has so well begun."

LEWIS AGREES TO NEGOTIATE WAGE TERMS

Delays Decision on Separate Talks with Southern Coal Producers.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15—John L. Lewis agreed today to try to negotiate a wage contract with operators representing about 75 per cent of the nation's soft coal production.

The Southern Coal Producers association, which refused to go along on industry-wide bargaining with Lewis' United Mine Workers, asked for separate negotiations.

Wants Parley First

Lewis replied that he wanted a chance to discuss the southerners' request with his policy committee before giving an answer.

Those major developments in the long-troubled coal industry were announced by Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, federal coal mines administrator.

Lewis' agreement to negotiate with a part of the industry represented an about face on his previous insistence on industry-wide bargaining, in line with a policy adopted at the UMW convention last year.

Go Back July 1

Most of the nation's soft coal mines are under government operation, but must be returned to private ownership by July 1. Collisson called the UMW chief and the operators together several weeks ago in the hope that would produce a contract that would avert a major strike when the private owners resume control.

The owners who will start separate talks immediately with Lewis include operators of northern and western pits and of "captive" mines in the south—that is mines controlled by such companies as U. S. Steel.

Charles O'Neill, representing those operators, agreed with Lewis to set up a joint conference at once.

This conference, which will include about seven men from each side, will be headed—as in past years—by Ezra Van Horn as chairman. He is a representative of Ohio Coal producers.

Freed Agent To Aid May

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 15—Joseph F. Freeman, munitions agent acquitted at the May-Garsson bribery trial, will take the witness stand for the three other defendants.

Counsel for former Kentucky Congressman Andrew Jackson May and arms manufacturers Henry and Murray Garsson disclosed this today.

Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut, in granting an acquittal motion for Freeman yesterday, ordered the trial recessed until tomorrow.

The 72-year old May, wartime house military committee chairman, is charged with taking $55,000 in bribes to do favors for the $76,000,000 Garsson munitions combine which held a total of 66 war contracts.

May himself is expected to be a witness tomorrow after Charles J. Margotta, counsel for the two Garsson brothers, makes an opening defense statement which was postponed when the trial began April 22.

SHAKE ON FREEMAN'S ACQUITTAL. Joseph Freeman (left) acquitted by Judge H. A. Schweinhaut of being involved in the May-Garsson war frauds case, shakes hands with his attorney, Austin Canfield, as they leave U. S. District court in Washington, D. C. As Washington agent of the Garsson munitions combine, Freeman had been charged with participation in the conspiracy alleged between the Garssons and ex-Rep. Andrew May of Kentucky. Tornado Blasts Licking County

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., May 15—A tornado blasted a five-mile-wide swath between Johnstown and Alexandria in Licking county last night, causing damage estimated by farmers at "thousands of dollars."

Farm homes, barns and other buildings were demolished by the twisting wind, which was violent enough to carry a roof 1½ miles and lift an entire brooder house 150 feet.

No one was reported injured in the storm which hit at 9 p. m.

At least a dozen farms were struck and the wreckage of warped trees and scattered buildings littered the countryside today. Many barns were wrecked on their foundations. A brooder house on the farm of Herbert Kasson, 3½ miles south of Alexandria, was hurled 150 feet over fences, a section of the roof on the Gilbert Winn farm home came to rest 1½ miles away, Chicken houses were destroyed and chickens killed.

3 UNIONS STRIKE AT SALTER PLANT

Picket Lines Out After Negotiations Fail.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, May 15—Three AFL unions went on strike at 7 a. m. today at the H. B. Salter Mfg. Co., producers of plumbing supplies, after negotiations for wage increases failed at midnight Wednesday. Union members are asking a 25 per cent wage hike for hourly workers and a 10 per cent increase for piece workers. Before the deadline for negotiations was reached it was reported the company had made two counter-proposals affecting in general workers in the lower pay brackets, but was unwilling to make blanket increases.

The union is basing its demands on the increased cost of living and the rising wages of workers in other parts of the country. On the other hand, the company says it is unable to grant increases now because of a decline in the market.

Virtually all plant and office personnel went on strike when picket lines were formed this morning, and the company has been forced to close its doors. Two office employes remained at work.

Little hope is held for an early settlement of the strike. Striking unions are machinists, moulders and buffers and polishers locals. The company payroll amounting to $14,000 weekly is distributed to approximately 300 employes.

CITIES BATTLE TWO EPIDEMICS

Fostoria Fears Small Pox as Fremont Acts Against Typhoid Fever.

By The Associated Press

FOSTORIA, O., May 15—officials of two northern Ohio cities took action today to prevent a possible widespread outbreak of two dangerous killers—smallpox and typhoid fever.

In the Fostoria area, a 73-year-old Mexican, Emanuel Ibarra, died of smallpox and hundreds of other persons were exposed to the dread disease, while a 14-year-old Sandusky county boy was suffering from typhoid fever and four other persons were listed as suspects.

Orders for smallpox vaccinations by several hundred local residents were met by rushing supplies from Columbus, Toledo, and Detroit, while a wholesale drug firm at nearby Tiffin also had 10,000 vaccine units flown from New York.

Hunt Mexican Workers

A truckload of Mexican workers, who accompanied Ibarra to Fostoria from Savina, Mexico, two weeks ago and then scattered throughout northwestern Ohio, were the object of a search by health officials seeking to quarantine them.

A son and granddaughter of Ibarra, who resided with the victim, also were to be placed under quarantine.

School and industrial officials started a general vaccination of students and factory employes here, and physicians were swamped with calls by other persons.

Join To Stop Spread

At Fremont, Sandusky County Health Commissioner F. M. Teeple and health authorities of Erie county joined forces in an attempt to prevent the spread of typhoid fever believed to have been caused by consumption of water cress taken from polluted streams in the Vickery-Castalia area.

The five persons afflicted with the disease were reported to have eaten cress found on the famed Blue Hole at Castalia. Danger of an epidemic was increased, said Dr. Teeple, because of sales of the water plant by several children.

A movement to trace other persons known to have picked water cress from polluted streams in the area was headed by Helen D. Leiser, Sandusky county health nurse.

Accuse Centerburg Man Of Stealing Own Car

State highway patrolmen at the Marion substation scratched their heads when they received a request from Crestline to arrest Lloyd Burson of near Centerburg, O., for stealing his own automobile. However, further investigation proved it can be done.

It seems Burson was arrested Tuesday morning by Crestline police for a minor traffic violation. To make certain he would appear in court, authorities took his automobile and locked it in a garage. Wednesday afternoon Burson broke into the garage and took the automobile, Crestline police said. He was arrested later on Route 61 south of Mt. Gilead and taken by patrolmen to Crestline where he was charged with breaking and entering.

VICTIMS ON WAY TO WORK IN PLANT HERE

Son of One Escapes Death When He Misses Ride; Both Employed at Cooler.

Two Marion county men were killed instantly at 8:30 a. m. today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a freight train at Green Camp.

The dead are John Louck, 41, of one-half mile southeast of Green Camp, and Kenneth H. Bowker, 21, of Green Camp. They were the only occupants of the automobile.

The accident occurred, according to Sheriff LeRoy Hetterer, at the Elevator street crossing in Green Camp when the automobile was driven into the path of an eastbound Erie freight train. Louck was driving.

Both men were thrown from the car by the impact of the collision and their bodies were found lying on the south side of the railroad tracks approximately 120 feet east of the crossing. Both were killed instantly, the sheriff said.

Car Carried Half Mile

The automobile, which was struck near the middle, was carried more than half a mile down the tracks and still was clinging to the front of the locomotive when the train stopped. The car was demolished.

J. B. Ezzert, of 304 North Prospect street, conductor on the train, said the train was traveling at "about its usual speed" when the collision occurred. The car was driven directly into the path of the train, which had no time to stop, he said.

The bodies were brought to Marion by the Merle H. Hughes ambulance.

Both men were employed at the Universal Cooler division of the International Detroit Corp. They were on their way to work when the accident happened.

Son Misses Death

Lewis Louck, son of John, escaped possible death when he missed a ride in his father's automobile. The son, who also works at the Universal Cooler division, remained at the Louck home because his lunch had not yet been packed while his father drove into Green Camp to pick up Bowker. He was to meet his father and Bowker in front of his home on their return trip. He told Sheriff Hetterer he saw the ambulance pass as he waited at the end of the driveway. Fearing something was wrong he returned to the house and called Mrs. Bowker, who told him the two men had left the Bowker home a few minutes before. The crossing is located only a short distance from the Bowker home.

The street runs north and south and motorists have a clear view of the east-west crossing, the sheriff said. The crossing contains warning signs but no automatic signals.

Bowker an Illinois Native

Kenneth Harrison Bowker was born Jan. 14, 1926 in Fairbury, Ill., a son of Fred H. and Pearl E. Kinder Bowker. Feb. 24, 1945, he married Evolena Landrum in Marion. A resident of Marion county two years, he came here from Kankakee, Ill. During World War II he was in service four years, three overseas, and was a corporal in the 353rd Bomber squadron, 13th Air force. He was a machinist at the Universal Cooler Corp. here.

Surviving with his widow are his father, who lives in Kankakee, a son, Kenneth Lee, and brother and sisters, William P. Bowker of Kankakee, and Mrs. Ellsworth Spicar of Wilmington, Ill., and Miss Zelma Jean Bowker of Green Camp.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. Lester Kidd of the Baptist church at Green Camp. Burial will be in Green Camp cemetery. Friends may call at the Bert Osborne home at 412 Evans road after 10 a. m. Friday, then at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Sunday. Mr. Bowker's widow is a daughter of Mrs. Osborne.

Wife of Prospect Physician Charters Plane For 750-Mile Flight To Injured Husband

An airplane chartered for an emergency flight Tuesday carried the wife of Dr. Robert Gray of Prospect to her husband's bedside on Michigan's upper peninsula where he was injured in a fall. The return of the plane was awaited today at Mansfield airport. According to word received by Mrs. Gray before she left Prospect, Dr. Gray fell from a ladder while repairing his summer cottage near St. Ignace, Mich., apparently suffering back injuries.

When she received word of her husband's accident, Mrs. Gray called nearby airports in an effort to locate an amphibious plane and finally located one at Mansfield. She drove to Mansfield Tuesday and left her automobile, converted into an ambulance, to receive her husband on the return trip. She left Tuesday afternoon in a SeaBee type amphibious plane piloted by Robert Hunt, a former Navy flier.

Flew Over Water

Most of the 750-mile trip was to be over open water and the rest is over lake-strewn woodlands. Since the cottage is located on the shore of Lake Huron it was expected to save time by taking the amphibious craft.

Clayton Tschantz, general manager of the Harrington Air service of Mansfield from which the plane was chartered, said another advantage is the fact that a seat may be folded back to provide space for a stretcher.

Weather Unfavorable

Mr. Tschantz said the plane was expected to return to Mansfield today but that he was not certain whether the trip had been completed. Weather conditions were extremely bad along the entire route, he explained, and said the last word from Hunt, the pilot, indicated they were putting down at an airport near Ypsilanti, Mich.

Dr. Gray had been at his cottage since Sunday, and the accident apparently occurred Tuesday morning.

Rail Union To Admit Negroes

Clerks Pass Resolution Giving Colored Employes Full Membership.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., May 15 — Negroes today were accorded full membership rights in the AFL's Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

Only a handful of 1,000 delegates attending the union's 18th convention voted in opposition yesterday as a resolution was adopted striking out the word "white" from the membership requirement section of the brotherhood's constitution.

More than 23,000 Negroes holding jobs under the union's jurisdiction previously had been enrolled in "auxiliaries."

President Asks Resolution

Adoption of the resolution was requested by Grand President George M. Harrison of Cincinnati who declared only four of approximately 100 AFL unions now imposed race, color and creed restrictions to membership. He cited a U. S. Supreme court decision holding that a union claiming bargaining rights must represent all its employes.

The resolution was opposed vigorously, however, during the two-hour debate which preceded the standing vote.

Meanwhile, a convention controversy echoed in common pleas court here as Michael Gallagher of New York sued four officers of the international union and a convention delegate for $50,000 damages and also asked an injunction restraining them from barring him from the convention.

Named Defendants

Grand President Harrison, Grand Vice President Robert Morgan, Grand Secretary-Treasurer Phil Ziezler, Chairman William Winston of the credential committee and John Monaghen, alternate delegate from New York Lodge 2125 were named defendants in the suit.

The plaintiff said that he was duly elected a convention delegate by Local 2125 but that the defendants had conspired to prevent him from taking his seat as a delegate.

Gallagher's petition cited a "dispute" he had with Grand President Harrison in 1945 climaxed by Harrison expelling Gallagher from the union, then charged that, despite a New York court order holding the expulsion invalid, the plaintiff has been "fraudently" deprived of a membership card.

Gallagher asked the $50,000 judgment for damage to his reputation as result of the defendants' alleged actions.

BLIND WOMAN HELD

SALEM, O., May 15—Charges of assault with intent to wound were filed against Mrs. Gleason Wildman, a blind woman, in the stabbing of her blind husband yesterday. Sheriff George Hayes quoted Wildman as saying his wife stabbed him in the stomach and back with a butcher knife inflicting slight wounds. Led into court by a "seeing eye dog" Mrs. Wildman was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond.

STEEL PRODUCED AT MILE-A-MINUTE PACE

By The Associated Press

WEIRTON, W. Va., May 15—A marvel of production which can produce wafer-thin steel at a mile-a-minute pace is now here.

The Weirton Steel Company No. 6 cold strip mill, officials say, can roll steel one-third faster than any previous record.

The mill, as big as a sizeable office house, is part of a $20,000,000 expansion by the steel subsidiary of national steel which has embarked on a $500-plus program in its various works.

Company officials said the mill's speed approximates 6,000 feet per minute. It can produce a coil of steel of tin plate thickness weighing five tons in less than five minutes. That's sufficient for about 62,500 vegetable cans.

The mill's output will consist mainly of tinplate gauges, ranging from 6/1000 to 15/1000 of an inch in thickness. However, the unit can roll thicker gauge up to 25 gauge, approximately 22/1000 of an inch thick.

Tremendous pressure exerted by 17,550 horsepower from huge electrical motors is placed on the steel strip as it enters the mill. The steel is stiff and of cardboard thickness when it is threaded into the mill. As it speeds through the powerful rolls of five stands it is compressed into pliable thinness. It whips out of the mill into a coil with amazing speed.

Firm officials said the mill's speed is about three times as fast as the 2,000-feet-a-minute top speed of most modern cold-reducing mills. Some comparatively new mills make 5,000 to 3,500 feet per minute.

At a reception after the inspection T. E. Millsop, Weirton president, said the mill would increase tin plate output 50 per cent. He declared he expected this to be accomplished with no labor force reductions. Labor unneeded in rolling could be absorbed in other functions, he added.

Now We Know

HENRY WALLACE complains that he is a much misunderstood man—that he often is misquoted by the press. It could be that sometimes the press doesn't know what he is talking about.

For example, during a recent press interview, he said he had frequently spoken in defense of free capitalism as contrasted to communism and he was asked: "Do you think there is a fundamental difference?" To this his answer was:

"It is parametric more than fundamental. I also mentioned that only four Russians—I don't know about this myself but I was told by reliable authorities—are employed in the secretariat of the United Nations, whereas there are some 260 Americans, 100 British and 60 or 70 others. I think that is parametric, too."

As soon as they had a chance, reporters made a dash for their dictionaries to look up "parameter." They read: "1. Math. A. An arbitrary constant characterizing by each of its particular values some particular member of a system of expressions, curves, surfaces, functions, etc. B. A variable through functions of which may be expressed other variables as the coordinates of a locus. C. In conics, the third proportional to any diameter and its conjugate, or in the parabola, to any abscissa and the corresponding ordinate." The definition of "parametric" reads: "Of, or pertaining to, or in terms of, a parameter."

For sale cheap: One slightly used parameter, or will trade for 1941 model diameter.

Keep the Moon Out of This

FARMERS and city-dwellers with green thumbs can't figure it out. The temperature has dropped to 21 in May, yet damage to growing things has been surprisingly light. Some have hazarded the guess that the moon being on the wane had something to do with it, but no one can be sure.

On the evidence so far adduced, let's keep the moon out of this. The moon is blamed for too many things already, including the infinitesimal tide the physics professor says is in a basin of water; recurring blindness in horses; neuralgia in those who sleep in moonlight; lycanthropy, or the tendency of men to turn into wolves when the moon is full; lunacy; romantic interludes and certain popular songs, both silly in the harsh light of day; and a mysterious, zodiacal control over the life-tides of all living things.

No, let's keep the moon out of this. Rather let us attribute it to a combination of a propitious dew-point plus a strong will to live in young buds which were old enough to sit up and fight back.

They'll See Red

A WASHINGTON news story says the Army is considering separate units for Communists, should it ever become necessary to renew selective service. If such a plan is put into operation, the shouts of the outraged comrades will be audible all the way from Union Square to the Nevsky Prospekt.

Consider a platoon of Communists with no one but themselves to talk to, no mass meetings to address, no prospects to convert, no chances to stir up discontent, not even a chance for arguments among themselves, for the Stalinist version of Marxist dialectics does not admit of argument.

And to what types of duties would these Red units be assigned? Put them on labor details away from the combat zones and they would cry that they were deliberately being held back so they couldn't show their valor. Put them in the front lines and they would scream they were lambs being led to slaughter.

If such a dire scheme ever is put in effect, somebody high up in the policy-making echelons of the war department will run the risk of getting himself called a "fascist beast."

Wanted: Infantrymen

THE ARMY'S decision to reassign all qualified infantrymen to duty with infantry units points up the difficulty of keeping the military forces supplied with an adequate force of foot-soldiers.

A qualified infantryman gets a slick badge to wear and draws extra pay, but at present only 3.7 per cent of volunteers ask for infantry duty. Far more popular are the technical services, the service forces and, of course, the air corps. Even in peacetime, infantry training is no picnic and the duty is far from glamorous.

Battle-tested infantrymen wear their crossed-rifles with pride. More than any, they know what the insignia stands for. But they also know that, come war or peace, the assignment is a thankless one. That's why the infantry's ranks are depleted today.

During World War II war death claims paid by commercial U. S. insurance companies (not including National Service Life Insurance- was only 6.2 per cent of the total for the period.

The United States has about 460 million acres of cropland, of which all but about 70 million acres is subject to erosion if not protected.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

President Appears To Have Mind Made Up.

WASHINGTON, May 15—Mr. Truman was not shy about telling what he proposed to do with the union reform and tax reduction bills in his conferences with the Democratic state leaders who have been dropping in at the White House the past few weeks—not the way they tell it among their knowing politicos. The President did not even seem to know his senate Democratic leadership was successfully promoting a mystery on the subject. He said he would veto the union reform and sign the tax reduction—the way they tell it.

Mr. Truman indeed made a new reputation as a smart politician among those who know the trade best on his side of the fence, namely those state leaders the national committee has been bringing here off and on for the past month, in a program to promote better contacts and understanding between the top leadership and the state organizations. In fact Mr. Truman has met some of his own delegates who expect to vote to re-nominate him in the national convention a year from this coming June, if everyone lives long enough and continues sufficiently engrossed with the idea over that long period.

Fills Old Shoes

Mr. Truman has been acting in these conferences as if he had nothing to hide, has hidden nothing and has left a notion with the delegations that perhaps he knows enough about this politicking business to occupy Mr. Roosevelt's old New Deal shoes without much space being left in the toes. The day the Louisiana delegation was in, for instance, he wafted his audience up to such breeziness they came out saying he was a 10 to 1 shot to win the next election.

They thought him smarter than they had heard in deciding to approve the Republican tax reduction bill, which will be popular with all taxpayers, but to veto the union reform legislation and by such action build up the old union support which Mr. Roosevelt found so satisfying. Particularly he seemed working on the Roosevelt technique of allying the city Democratic machines (New York, Chicago, Baltimore, elsewhere) with the unions, thus to assure himself of a national majority, although this coalition was unable to count itself a majority in the last congressional election.

"We just have to sit back and let the Republicans hang themselves," a Louisiana man is quoting the President as saying to his party workers. "Give them all the rope they need." This seems to explain why the White House has been silently handing out rope to congress lately.

With such strategy the delegations were not only pleased but tremendously impressed. The southerners from Georgia, for instance, did not believe veto of the union reform would hurt down their way, or that Georgia would pay much attention to the fact that the Democratic city machines in the north stand for a policy opposite theirs. They thought they could take the country easily both ways, the party standing for one thing in the south and the opposite thing in the north. Mr. Roosevelt always did it that way.

Objects To Cooperation

A woman in another state delegation, however, forthrightly objected to Mr. Truman hobnobbing with these Republicans on foreign policy.

"Vandenberg is just catty," some delegates who were present quote her as saying. "After you have given him all the publicity he makes a speech on the radio which sounds as if he thought he was secretary of state." She urged him not to give the Michigan chairman of the senate foreign relations committee any more opportunities to gather prestige.

The party leaders liked the way Mr. Truman handled this one also. He nearly fell out of his chair laughing, they say. Later he said, according to them: "I don't know how you feel, but let's don't get any more politics into foreign relations. It is in enough of a mess as it is."

The lady, however, came back after the conference and persisted somewhat as follows:

"You know, Mr. President, that Vandenberg was an isolationist and leopards don't change their spots."

This time Mr. Truman just laughed, saying nothing whatever about spots, flyspecks, or any national political phenomena. His mind was made up and he was quite sure of himself.

They Shoot the Bull But Not Themselves

Despondent over inability to keep his campaign promises, a Cuban office-holder recently shot himself.

That's what comes, says the old line ward-heeler, of electing amateurs to public office.

But munitions makers are watching the development with interest. If the idea catches on, they'll enjoy their first peacetime boom.

For if all the politicans who have reneged on campaign promises start shooting themselves, it will sound like bargain day at the rifle range.

Yes sir, if do or die becomes the watchword in public office, this nation will have a few live statesman and a lot of dead politicians.

The first rule of politics is that promises are easier to forget than fulfill. Nobody pays any attention to broken promises, since it is always so easy to make some more.

Still, candidates would campaign a sight more cautiously if it really were a matter of life and death.

The Great Housing Failure

By RAYMOND MOLEY

IT BEGINS to look as if real housing relief will go over into next year. The current slowing down of building construction, in fact, may be one of the reasons for much of the talk we hear about a coming recession.

In 1946, 700,000 units were produced. This appeared to be well above prewar levels. But since 100,000 of these so-called structures were temporary affairs—including trailers—the showing was not encouraging.

This year, considerably more money may be spent for new construction than last year, but considering the rise in prices, the volume will be lower than in 1946.

The more obvious reason for this decline is prohibitive costs. But in the case of housing, high prices are not a primary cause, but an effect.

The evidence we have of a decline comes from figures on building permits and on contracts awarded. But these do not reveal an exceedingly serious situation which lies behind new building. Much of the building which was started last year is not completed. Reports from several states indicate that many of the big housing jobs started last year are far from completion.

Cost Boosting Factors

By starting more building than could be finished, the industry encountered higher prices and wages. Efforts to go on raised costs still more, because when people are confronted with work partly done, they are willing to pay more for materials. And so prices rise, and prospective builders are afraid to begin.

An important additional factor is the scarcity of skilled labor. The labor supply cannot soon be increased. Apprentices are in training, but it will be a year or more before enough are sufficiently skilled to be of much help. A reliable observer says that it will be a year before the number of newly trained workers will catch up with the number of deaths and retirements in the industry since the war.

It begins to look as if there will be no congressional action this year on the Taft long-range housing bill. Even if that were passed, it could hardly take effect for a considerable time. The remedies the bill provides are cumbersome and complicated.

Finance Problem

An additional factor which hampers new construction suggests its own means of correction. This factor is the relatively high cost of mortgage money. We have generally the lowest interest rates in our history. Municipalities are able to borrow money at less than two per cent. But mortgages have never reached a level comparable with that at which government can borrow, even with Federal guarantee through the FHA.

If anything like the organizing power which characterizes certain industries were applied to the building industry, there would be lower interest rates, large-scale operation and stable working conditions, which might drastically reduce rents and carrying charges.

A most constructive suggestion is that the government bonds in the hands of people who want houses should be used as direct collateral for mortgages or loans.

We have had two years of discouragement. Government promises have faded away in frustration. If the situation is to be saved, it must be saved by the constructive ideas of private builders and labor leaders.

Senate Labor Bill Fills Need

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THERE is good reason for thinking that the senate labor bill, as it was shaped by Messrs Taft, Ives and Morse, is acceptable to many who for various reasons do not think it expedient to be recorded as favoring it. The best evidence for this view is that the American Federation of Labor has concentrated its attack not on the senate bill but on that particular feature of the house bill—the prohibition of industry-wide bargaining—which the senate rejected.

The AFL advertisements, published the morning after the senate passed its bill, end with the cry "This bill must not pass." But the bill which the AFL is talking about has not passed the senate. What the AFL is saying is, by implication, that if the senate conferees can persuade the house conferees to accept the senate bill, the AFL, though still opposing the legislation, will not for the time being fight it fiercely.

This is a clear indication, it seems to me, that the senate bill does not divide the country but in fact unites a very large majority of the people—most of them openly and in addition a sizable number tacitly. The bill would probably be even "stronger"—in the sense that it was more likely to work in practice and in the sense of having the broadest popular support—if it were modified in conference to reduce the likelihood of destructive lawsuits under certain of its provisions, and if the silly "anti-Communist" amendment, which Mr. Taft quite rightly opposes, were deleted.

Statesmanlike Effort

But even with its defects, the senate bill is a statesmanlike effort to carry out the popular will—that laws be enacted which will regulate the power of union labor. Though some features of the bill could be abused, though some features may prove to be unworkable, the prospect would be much worse if congress were unable to legislate at all. For the details of the bill are less important than its essential principle, which is to demonstrate that congress is able and willing to regulate the private power of the great labor monopolies.

After the behavior of some of the big labor bosses—particularly John L. Lewis—such a reassertion of national authority has become necessary if confidence in democratic government is to be preserved. We may count ourselves fortunate that the senate met the need with so much wisdom and so little fanaticism.

The result is a bill which far from being "fascist" in substance or in purpose is, on the contrary, a good example of how a democratic society can best prevent fascism by showing that it is strong, decisive, rational and restrained.

Mr. Truman's position is now dependent upon what happens in the conference. If the house will agree to the senate bill, and better still if the senate bill could be modified on a few points which are useless excrescences, then the bill should command enough votes to override a veto.

Ways Open To President

Mr. Truman will then have several choices. He can approve the bill, pointing out the features he dislikes and announcing that he will press to have the bill amended at the next session of congress. This would, I believe, be the most statesmanlike course he could take, and from his point of view the best politics.

Or he can veto the bill, knowing that his veto will be overridden. This will appear to be the politically easier course in that he will get the bill, which he needs as president, without breaking with the labor leaders whom he wants as a presidential candidate. But it will not enhance his stature as a president.

A third possibility would exist for him only if the senate Republicans are unable to persuade the house Republicans to recede from the spectacular features of the Hartley bill. Then it is almost certain that a veto would be sustained in the senate, and that Mr. Truman could recover the political initiative by proposing a much softer bill, which congress might have to take rather than go home without any bill at all.

But this possibility can be ruled out by the Republican leaders, and they would spoil a very good record if they did not rule it out. They have the makings of a genuine success in a most difficult field, and it is hard to see why they should yield to the extremists in their own ranks and throw away an achievement which is at once statesmanlike and good politics.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Thoughts on Car Parking

Consider the parking lot!

It is America's fastest growing headache, absorbing more good central corners than gas stations ever did.

A parking lot is place into which you put your jalopy to have the dents deepened, like a hatchery for larger knicks.

• • •

You leave your sedan there while you shop and, while you are away, the attendant gives it a bus new body lines, splits the bumpers three to one and gives the car such a shaking up that its initials come out upside down.

• • •

The parking lot began as a convenient accommodation, worked its way through the phase of a business proposition and is winding up as a Racket Extraordinary.

• • •

Once you could park a truck there all day for a quarter. Today it cost a half dollar to park a scooter there an hour.

• • •

Ala Baba is the proprietor, Sinbad is his assistant, and the attendants are the first cousins of the Bull in the China Shop and the Wrecking Crew in Sheep's Clothing.

• • •

The parking lot motto is "We alter your car while you shop!" Its trademark is a pair of bent fenders against a field of intertwined bumpers.

• • •

The squawks of the disgruntled patrons can be heard from coast to coast. City officials everywhere are now looking into the evils of Side-Street Corner Knockabouts and the Traffic Congestion Gypperies. But there's a new one opened every 30 seconds.

• • •

They are changing the general appearance of our cities to a point where the American scene is becoming an eyesore and an architectural abomination. Some of our best residential areas now look like junk yards, and the site of many a fine old hotel, school, bank or business house has become a site for a combination outdoor garage, school for larceny and "sidesaw parking piggly-wiggly."

• • •

The rarest thing in an American city today is a street corner with dignity and charm. They have all been transformed into Super Terminals for Tight Fits and Rotisseries of Hot Brakes and Cold Deals.

• • •

But why kick? There are now more cars than people and more parking lots than either. Gangway! We're driving in. Check on the scratches, mister, and remember your dent policy "Double or nothing"!

The Class of '47

By TRUMAN TWILL

Notes for a commencement address—1947 In these parlous times, let not your hearts be troubled. Things are tough all over. The atom bomb, terrorism, high prices etc.

Yesterday it was poison gas, terrorism, high prices etc. The more things change the more they are the same. In Cleveland, Ohio, the forces of law and order are in arms because a man is selling automobiles too low. A short while ago the forces of law and order in Cleveland—and Squeedunk—were in arms because men were selling automobiles too high.

Don't let the hot air fool you. You are the hope of the world. The best years of your life are ahead. The older generation will step aside (oh yeah?) and invite you to take up the cudgels, torch, spades, clubs, option? The world is your oyster, with hot sauce, at umpsteen cents a half shell, which Harry Truman says is too much.

Science. mmm, science. Can do anything except make human beings smarter. Think of the neutron. What about the proton? Don't forget Admiral's Lady in the fifth at Pimlico Remember the names of those two towns in Japan Hirosaki and Nagashima. What happened to Sodom and Gomorrah? What happened to St. Louis in the American? How are things in Glocca Morra?

Today's great challenge, young men and women, is to the peacemakers. Make that fellow citizens instead: some of this year's starry-eyed graduates are bald and gray, with half-grown children. Better make it fellow Americans. Wendell Willkie wouldn't mind. Mention George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln. Throw in James K. Polk; no one ever mentions him, and it's free.

The truth shall make men free. Who's afraid? Frightening new techniques of propaganda. War with Russia is inevitable. Who says war with Russia is inevitable? Wup, wrong angle. Take a crack at Henry Wallace. Take a crack at rusty squeaks. Take two, they're small. Whatever happened to Tommy the Cork and Henry the Morgue?

Brush up on historical reference—Boston Tea Party, Iwo Jima, Anacostia Flats, OPA, RFC, Dumbarton Oaks, Congress of Vienna, Henry Ford, Dolly Madison, Eleanor Roosevelt, Anthony Adverse, Satchel Paige, Bull Run, and Larry McPhail.

Be confident. Be brave, upright, honest, candid, cheerful, tolerant and forgiving. Be as smart as the law allows. Money isn't everything. Portal to portal. Cradle to grave. New York to San Francisco. Pillar to post. Soup to nuts. Bad to worse. Rendezvous with destiny. Thanks for the buggy ride. June, moon, spoon, loon, croon, soon.....

Forefathers, generations yet unborn. Infinite wisdom, boundless opportunity, broad highway of life, clear-eyed, light-hearted, slowly but surely, remember the Alamo, Fred Allen, John N. Garner, the Cherry Sisters, the Appendix, Jackrabbit and oh for the love of Mike who listens to a commencement address anyway?

Vet Student Hunts Mice in Kitchen with Rifle

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 15—Bob Wells loves his small wife because she lets him hunt mice in the kitchen with a rifle.

And Freda thinks her big gangling husband married her because "I'm the only one who laughs at his jokes."

Hal Boyle

Bob is a former Air Force crew chief who came to the University of Missouri to study journalism under the GI bill of rights. He keeps the campus lively and he and Freda, who comes up to about Bob's armpits, are the happiest young couple I have met in months. They took me out to their small white house on the edge of town, a rendezvous for student ex-soldiers.

"Take off your shoes and make yourself at home," said Bob. It's a house rule with them that every guest has to take off his shoes on entering—and leave them off. You have to comply even if you have a hole in your stockings.

Given To Pranks

Bob is given to antic pranks carried out with a poker face. He brought out two bottles of ale. Every few moments he would get up from the sofa, walk to the kitchen where Freda was heating us some chop suey and call to her:

"All I know, bartender, is that my glass was two thirds full when I set it down here a minute ago."

Or:

"Hey, Babe, when I give you a dime for the juke box I expect to hear two tunes."

Each time Freda broke into peals of laughter.

'He isn't really funny," she said. "I just love him."

Likes Old Guns

Bob has a passion for old guns and they line his study. When a mouse invaded the kitchen once he patiently stalked it with a .22 rifle. He shot it when the mouse stuck his head around the corner.

"There's no danger," Bob insisted. "The bullets just go down into the cellar and nobody lives there."

On one wall of his study is an old colored lithograph of "Custer's Last Stand" distributed by a brewery as saloon art. In a corner stands an old pinball machine.

"I always wanted a pinball machine I could play all night with the same nickel," said Bob. "Now I have it."

He goes to school on a bicycle equipped with some old saddlebags and occasionally Bob rides off with his army canteen strapped to his side. For all his idiosyncrasies he is regarded by fellow students as the most brilliant in the class. He just likes to do odd things for fun.

Won't Throw Money Away

When he returned home from overseas where he kept four-engine B-24s in flying condition, Bob saw many ex-servicemen foolishly tossing away their savings and mustering out pay. He decided to spend his more wisely.

He cycled about town until he found a small house for sale and plunked down a down payment. He went into a store to buy some cheap second-hand furniture.

He liked the smiling red-haired little girl who waited on him—Freda Hollis, daughter of the proprietor.

"She sold me the worst furniture in the store," said Bob. "She charged me $27.50 for a broken old stove. When you pitched coal into the front it came right on through out the back."

"Anything else?" she asked, when he was through buying.

"Yes—you!" Bob said boldly. Freda just laughed, but Bob got a job in the store and two weeks later they were married.

"If you knew then what was going to happen you wouldn't have sold me all that junk," Bob called into the kitchen.

"Well, we got rid of it," laughed Freda. "Come on in now, you two, and eat your chop suey."

Industry Looks at Our Town

Maybe you read how a group of industrial experts have decided that the small town is the place for industry—not big cities. Reasons they give are better housing, pleasanter living, and more opportunity for wholesome recreation.

Well, looking around our town I'd say that was about right. Most of us own our homes, and keep them looking nice; we enjoy each other's company; and our recreations are mostly simple outdoor sports, and in the evening a mellow glass of beer with pleasant company.

As Doc Walters says, that sort of life just naturally sets you up for work the next day . . . whether it's in office, mill, or field. And Doc should know. He works fourteen hours, but never misses his morning "constitutional" or his evening glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, any industry could profit from being in a town where wholesome living, temperance, and friendship are the rule.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ORDNANCE PLANT LAWS PREPARED

Legislation Drawn Up to O.K. Contract Talks.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 15 — Legislation to authorize the governor and the welfare and public works directors to negotiate contracts for acquisition of Cambridge State hospital and the Scioto Ordnance plant near Marion from the federal government is being prepared.

State Welfare Director Charles I. Sherwood said today that the war assets administration after three months of silence had finally made a definite proposition for the state to take over the Cambridge hospital which formerly was Fletcher General hospital of the army.

The state either can buy the institution outright for $2,132,000 or can lease it for 25 years with an annual ... of 4 per cent on the purchase price but subject to a number of reservations. These include a guarantee to operate it for at least 25 years, a promise to use it only as a state mental hospital and to make periodic reports to the federal government, and to grant the mineral rights to the government.

Under these terms, Sherwood said, the state would get a quit claim deed.

However, he added, should any future state administration fail to meet any one of the stipulations the federal government could immediately take back the $5,000,000 institution.

Sherwood said the federal government had made a tentative proposition regarding the Scioto Ordnance plant, but he declined to disclose the details.

Youth To Receive Highest Scouting Religious Award

Orland Beveridge, 17, Life Scout and member of Boy Scout Troop 3 sponsored by Epworth Methodist church, will receive the God and Country award, scouting's highest religious award, from Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor of Epworth church, in a special ceremony during the morning worship service May 18, the Harding Area Council office has announced.

The award, requirements for which are various religious activities and service to the church, is the first to be presented in Marion county since the award was established a number of years ago, Hugh Hay, Harding Area executive, said.

Beveridge has been putting intensive effort in work for the award since last fall, but activities included in requirements cover the entire period of his career as a Scout. One of the requirements is 150 hours service to the church or church groups other than attendance at services. He has assisted in ushering, preparing hymnals for services, aided in maintenance of Our House, the church youth center, and taken an active part in youth group programs. Non-operating railroad unions are demanding still another raise of $568,000,000.00 a year

MR. & MRS. CONSUMER

MR. SHIPPER & MR. FARMER

MR. & MRS. PASSENGER

You would foot the bill!

Look out! There's another big railroad wage demand headed your way!

The non-operating unions alone—whose members do not actually operate trains—are demanding a flat increase of 20 cents an hour. These demands would cost the railroads of the country five hundred sixty-eight million dollars a year!

Last year these employes had an increase of 18½ cents an hour. This was their third major wage increase since 1939. Their average weekly pay has gone up 75%, as against a cost-of-living rise of 54%.

Since 1939, railroad wage and material costs have gone up more than three times as much as freight rates, and five times as much as passenger fares. That is why in 1946, with the largest peacetime traffic in history, the net income of railroads went down to the equivalent of only 2¾% of the net property investment.

What About 1947?

Even with the recent freight rate increase, preliminary figures indicate that the railroads will make only about the same low return in 1947 as in 1946. This will be because:

—the wage increase made in 1946 will be in effect for all of 1947;
—special payroll taxes on railroads have recently been increased;
—and passenger traffic has declined.

Where Would the Money Come From?

We can't pay out what we don't take in. And we are not taking in enough now to meet present costs and to complete the improvements in service that you need and that we want to give you.

You Would Foot the Bill!

YOUR HEALTH

By MORRIS FISHBEIN, M.D.

Fluorine

Many dentists believe that the day may come when every city in the country will insist on the addition of fluorine to its drinking water to protect the teeth of its citizens.

Fluorine is a chemical element and occurs naturally in water supplies in certain parts of the United States. Ever since it was discovered a few years ago that people who were born and reared in these fluorine areas had less tooth decay than those living in other places, there has been great interest in the possible effects of adding fluorine to the public water supply.

Indeed, a number of cities have already done so, adding enough to bring the fluorine content up to one part of fluorine to one million parts of water.

Now Drs. T. A. Hardgrove and F. A. Bull of Wisconsin have reported on a study contrasting the dental health of children in one city where the fluorine content of the drinking water was 2.3 parts per million and another where it was only .05 parts per million. Only children who had been born in the respective cities and who had lived there continuously were considered. All were of kindergarten age—five to six years old.

Results were spectacular. There was three times as much decay in permanent teeth and four times as much in baby teeth among the children of the city where the fluorine content in the drinking water was low. Only one out of every 33 had teeth free from decay. Where the fluorine content of the water was high, almost one-third of the children had perfect permanent teeth.

Other studies have been carried out to determine just how the fluorine works. For example, Dr. B. G. Bibby of Boston found that fluorine solution applied to teeth with cotton applicator reduced the solubility of the tooth substance, that is, the enamel covering on the outside of the tooth and the dentin within it. In other words, applying the fluorine solution kept the tooth substance from being dissolved by mouth fluids.

In any event, it would appear that the addition of fluorides to drinking water, or even the application of fluorides directly to the teeth, may be a great factor in keeping tooth decay from occurring.

RICHMOND ROSES PRICK MARION CUBS 10-3 AND 6-5

Relief Hurlers Spell Victory For Locals' Indiana Opponents

Special to The Star

RICHMOND, Ind., May 15 — Two top-notch relief jobs the first by Earl Eggers and the second by Ken St. Pierre were responsible for 10-3 and 6-5 victories for the Richmond Roses over the Marion Cubs at Municipal stadium here Wednesday night.

While Richmond was climbing back above the .500 mark with the double triumph its Manager Rex Carr was not on hand to see the second game victory. He was ejected from the game in the sixth inning by Umpire Frank Holy after protesting a called ball.

Fined $25

Carr will pay a $25 fine League President Frank M. Colley said Wednesday night.

In the opener of the twin bill Richmond's Austin Brown coasted along for four innings on a 4-1 margin before the Cubs caught on in the fifth. Roy Hollingshead and Mel Wiebel led off with singles and Gene Bobzean flied out. After Brown walked Melvin Nelson and Manager Nelson Burbrink, the latter pass forcing in Hollingshead. He was relieved by Eggers.

Puts Out Fire

Eggers promptly put out the fire and pitched one-hit ball the remaining two and two-thirds innings. Marion scored once in the sixth on a walk to reliefer Ed Witowski, a safety by Hollingshead and Wiebel's outfield fly.

Rally for 6 Runs

Richmond, in the meantime, had rallied for six runs in its half of the fifth when starter Ed Van Nordheim was tagged for three hits, two sacrifices and two walks and Witowski gave up one base knock.

The nightcap saw Pete Swain go along good for seven innings and the big right hander held a 5-3 lead going into the eighth. The Cubs however started off the eighth with a single by Bob Meyers, a walk to John Edington and a double by Hollingshead which scored Meyers and Swain left the ball game.

Reliefer Comes In

Again Richmond sent a relief hurler to the rescue. This time it was Ken St. Pierre and the veteran southpaw halted the attempted rally. In the top of the ninth, Marion tied it up on a walk to Jim Forbes, a Richmond miscue and a single by Hollingshead.

Going into the bottom of the tenth it was still knotted but Edington walked one Rose, another was safe on a hit to short. A third reached first on an error to load the sacks and then St. Pierre won his own ball game with a line smash to center.

In Battle Royal Tonight with Human Blimp

Ali Pasha, the bearded Hindu will be one of the three rough men to face the Human Blimp, Martin Levi, weight 640 lbs. in the battle royal at the Marion Armory tonight.

The Blimp has yet to be pinned by a single wrestler but in the ring with such rough characters as Ali Pasha, Bull Montana and Dutch Schultz most anything could happen and likely will. Martin is no gentle soul himself and this will mark the first time he has met such a bunch of tough opposition.

The first two to hit the mat for the count of three will come back in the forty-five minute semi-final and the last two left in the ring will be the two hour main event. All matches two out of three falls.

The ten minute prelim which starts the show at 8:30 will be between Jean Pollack and Don Baker. If you haven't your ringside from Markert & Lewis call 2745 after six for the best. No advance in prices.—Adv.

Giants and Newark Divide As Muncie Smacks Lima Team

Springfield's third place Giants faced the task tonight of stopping the Ohio State league's rampaging Zanesville Dodgers.

Trailing the Dodgers by three full games, a half game behind the second-place Marion Cubs, the Giants lost an opportunity by splitting last night's twin bill with Newark Browns, 5 to 4 and 7 to 5. The Giants lost the first game when two Brown hurlers held them to one hit, but came back in the nightcap.

Zanesville's doubleheader at Dayton last night was cancelled by wet grounds.

Lima dropped into a last place tie with Dayton, losing to Muncie 6 to 5 although outhitting the Packers, 12 to 9.

PLEASANT LOSES 9-3 GAME AT COLUMBUS

Hamilton Drops County Champions in Tourney Meet.

Pleasant's county championship baseball team dropped their first start in the district class B tourney, losing to Hamilton Township 9 to 3 at Columbus yesterday afternoon.

The Marion countians might have been bothered slightly by butterflies as the game started at 4 and they had to be back in Pleasant at 7 for school commencement exercices.

Pitcher Dick Dutt allowed Hamilton but four hits while his teammates smacked six off of Heiney and Easterday. He issued eight free passes and catcher Martin had five passed balls against him, however.

Hamilton got a lead that proved to be sufficient in the first inning when they scored four runs on two walks, a double by Heiney, two errors and another base on balls.

Pleasant put on a belated rally in the fifth as catcher Haynes was twice charged with interference, putting men on first base, R. Gorby singled, Mayers got on by an error, and Green walked, three runners crossing the plate in that stanza.

Hamilton twirlers were in good form as Heiney whiffed 10 men and Easterday sent six men back to the bench by the same method.

Pleasant is scheduled to go to the district track meet at Delaware this Saturday, but Coach Merton Porter was not sure he would take anyone. School activities at Pleasant have been over since last Friday.

Harding Has Tentative Game Billed with Galion

Coach W. N. Wiley's Harding baseball team has a tentative game with Galion at Harding field tomorrow, but school officials were not sure today that it would be posible to arrange it because of the fact that it may conflict with Galion's tournament schedule.

BRAY WINNER IN SCREW BALL BOGEY

Victor in First Country Club Golf Tourney.

J. B. Bray shot the low gross in the screw ball bogey tournament at the Country club yesterday for top honors. Although he was allowed only one prize his tournament score was also the lowest shot in the tourney. His gross was 41 and with a -6 handicap and a -4 bogey his tournament score was 31.

Bray is chairman of the golfing committee which sponsored the tournament.

A 65 by Joe Yanitel was the high gross for the day.

Wayne Jenkins shot the prize winning tournament score 35, and Carl Danner was second with 36. After handicap, Jenking had a score of 36 and Danner had a 35. However Jenkins got one stroke off for bogey and Danner had one added.

S. G. Haldeman and Gomer Davis were next in line with scores of 37. Bob McKeever totaled 38, Leo Groll and Dr. A. J. Wagner 39, and Bill Russell and Dr. Morgan 40.

The tournament was a nine hole event because of a wet course and scores were figured on a one-half handicap. The turnout was very good considering weather conditions. This was the first successful Marion golf meet of the infant season.

Roy Cullenbine has played with seven different ball clubs, including Detroit twice.

Ewell Blackwell Blanks Bums For First Shutout of Season

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 15—Tall, lean Ewell Blackwell, sophomore kingpin of the Cincinnati Reds' mound staff who pitched six shutouts last season, today hung his first goose-egg on the 1947 board.

He blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-0, thanks to some fine stickwork by teammates Bert Haas and Tom Tatum, the latter an outfielder acquired from Brooklyn two days ago.

BLACKWELL

First Baseman Haas got three of the Reds' four hits off Joe Hatten, Harry Taylor and Hugh Casey. Tatum got the other blow—a first inning line-drive homer that carried into the right field bleachers.

Blackwell was never in trouble as he notched his fourth victory of the year.

Baseball Trade Winds Blowing As June 15 Deadline Draws Nearer

By The Associated Press

... for lopping off some ... and inexperienced ... from their rosters and ... a couple of minor player ... the major leagues took ... 15 deadline in stride to- ... as a result not a transac- ... any consequence took ...

... however, several clubs, notably ... Philadelphia Phillies, Cincin- ... and Pittsburgh Pirates, ... been sounding out other ... may swing a deal with- ... or two.

The May 15 deadline ruling ... that each club roster ... reduced to the 25-player ... five ex-servicemen out ... less than one year. ... deadline does not come until June 15.

Wants Vander Meer

Philly Manager Ben Chapman has made overtures to the Cincinnati Reds for Double No-Hit Johnny Vander Meer. It is reported that Vandy can be had, but whether the Reds would be willing to take centerfielder Johnny Wyrostek and pitcher Ken Raffensberger or Tommy Hughes in exchange as the rumors have it, is a question.

The Pirates are seeking a good young pitcher and owner Frank McKiney is keeping an open checkbook next to his bedside.

Only two clubs picked up some playing strength during the past 48 hours, the Phillies acquiring shortstop Jackie Albright from the Boston Red Sox for a reported $25,000, and the Washington Senators purchasing utility outfielder Tommy McBride from the Red Sox for an unannounced sum and outfielder Felix Mackewicz from the Cleveland Indians for the waiver price of $10,000.

Boxer Release Pitcher

In addition to disposing of Albright and McBride, the Red Sox released pitcher Bill Butland to Ronaoke, a Boston farm in the Class B Piedmont league. They are now down to 26 men, with outfielder Bill Goodman ending his year out of service June 16.

The Chicago White Sox sold pitcher Hi Bithorn, obtained from Pittsburgh Pirates earlier this season, to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast league. Cleveland optioned rookie outfielder Dale Mitchell to Oklahoma City of the Texas league and farmed hurler Gene Bearden to Baltimore of the International league, both subject to 24-hour recall. Catcher Hank Ruszkowski is their only returned veteran.

The New York Yankees sliced ett Fagan to Birmingham of the Southern association.

Releasing pitcher Johnny Lanning outright and completing the conditional purchase of pitcher Glen Elliott from Seattle, the Boston Braves got down to 26 players including southpaw hurler Warren Spain whose year of their player roster one below the limit by parting off first baseman Nick Etten and catcher Ken Silvestri. Etten, recently returned by the Phillies, was assigned to Newark and Silvestri was shipped to Kansas City. The contracts of both men were assigned outright. Of the 27 of their roster, two are recent servicemen.

Athletics Unload

The Philadelphia Athletics reduced their squad to 24 including serviceman pitcher Carl Scheib by optioning outfielder Austin Knickerbocker and pitcher Everservice does not end until May 29.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who sold outfielder Tom Tatum to the Reds last Tuesday, got down to their player limit to 30 by sending Ed Stevens, first baseman, to Montreal.

Cubs Release Catcher

The Chicago Cubs released 31-year-old catcher Dewey Williams to Rochester on option, bringing their roster down to 25. The Reds, following the optioning of first baseman Charlie Kress out outfielder Bob Usher to Rochester, and the sale of outfielder Red Durrett to Fort Worth of the Texas league Tuesday, optioned pitcher Clay Lambert to Syracuse to get down to the 25-player limit.

The New York Giants returned outfielder Al White, who they gained in last winter's draft, to Toledo and the Phils surprised by handing veteran first baseman Frank McCormick his outright release. The 35-year-old McCormick suffered from a back ailment late last season and he has played only rarely this year. The Phils also released utility player Lou Finney and optioned shortstop Ralph LaPointe to Baltimore.

Pittsburgh reduced its roster to 28 including three servicemen by optioning pitcher Steve Nagy and infielder Jimmy Bloodworth to Indianapolis under 24-hour return clauses.

The Cards pared down to 25 players when they returned infielder Vernal (Nippy) Jones to Rochester, and optioned pitcher Wayne McClelland to Columbus of the American association and outfielder Bill Endicott to Houston of the Texas league.

Roseberry Wins 4th As Perini Triples

Joe Roseberry is rolling along like Ol' Man River.

The Marion southpaw hurler recently chalked up his fourth straight win for the Winston-Salem class C Carolina league club. He set Martinsville down with six hits to win 7-3. Joe struck out eight and walked three.

Ex-Cardinal Leo Perini aided Joe, getting three hits in five times at bat. He drove in three runs with a triple after Joe himself plated the first run of the ball game with a single.

Wally Lammers, former Cardinal third baseman who is also playing with the Winston-Salem team, was injured in the eighth inning when a grounder struck him in the face.

Hutchinson Showing $75,000 Form Now

By The Associated Press

... him a long time—nine ... to be exact—but fearless ... Hutchinson, the picture ... finally is beginning to ... like the great hurler he was ... to be when the Detroit ... handed over $75,000 for his ... in 1938.

Hutchinson divided that season ... the next between Detroit and ... in the International ... The war came along, ... Freddie played lots of base- ... under Mickey Cochrane and ... Feller in the navy. He ... back last year to win 14 and ... 11.

At the start of this season Manager Steve O'Neill rated him fourth on the staff to the great Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout and Virgil Trucks, but today the serious-minded son of Seattle rates right on top.

Hutch won his fifth successive game last night, defeating the Washington Senators at the capital 3-2. No pitcher in the American league has won as many.

The Tigers broke a 2-2 tie in the ninth. Eddie Lake walked, raced to third on George Kell's single, and scored as Roy Cullenbine forced Kell.

The triumph enabled the Tigers to retain their one-game margin over the Boston Red Sox who won their eighth game in their last nine starts as Joe Dobson limited the Chicago White Sox to eight hits for a 5-1 triumph.

Blasting Murry Dickson and Ken Burkhart for six runs in the third inning, the New York Giants made it five straight victories over the St. Louis Cardinals by whipping the Redbirds at Sportsmans' park 6-4. Triples by Willard Marshall and Walker Cooper led the attack which gave rookie Larry Jansen his second straight win. Ron Northey hammered his fourth homer for the Cards.

Officials from Byrd McGinnis post of American Legion met with Ralph Shick Lincoln-Mercury dealer at Central Junior high school last night to make plans for ordering of equipment for the Marion junior Legion team. Lincoln-Mercury sales agreed to finance the purchasing of uniforms and equipment for the club. Three sporting goods stores also had representatives at the meeting and orders were placed for equipment with each that was represented.

A white uniform trimmed in red, with Marion across the front, and the American Legion emblem on the sleeve was agreed upon.

Nelson Irvin, team coach, has announced that the first practice will be held at Harding field at 2 p. m. Saturday. All boys who have made application and any boys who can meet the player's requirement are invited to come.

Larry Larson has also indicated that he will give his services in whipping the team into shape.

Those attending the meeting last night were R. E. Martin, W. E. Orcutt, Jewell Ralston, Larry Larson, and Nelson Irvin.

Programs on the Air

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz will be heard in a special Mutual Network program Sunday, May 18, at 6:30 p. m. which will be the springboard for the 1947 enrollment campaign of the U. S. Naval Reserve Corps. There will be five "live" pick-ups on the show, with naval personnel in Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Los Angeles, Washington and Oahu, Hawaii, participating. The U. S. Navy band, heard from Washington, will provide musical background for the program.

Some of the complexities of American international diplomacy, made more apparent to the average citizen by recent passage of the anti-Communist Greek-Turkish aid bill, will be aired in two separate week-end broadcasts over the Mutual Network.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind) house majority leader, will be the guest on the Friday presentation of "Meet the People" at 9 p. m. Halleck rallied Republican passage in the lower house last week of a modified version of the senate bill.

Andrei A. Gromyko, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, will break a self-imposed reticence when he makes his first scheduled network radio address Monday, May 19, at 9:30 p. m. over Mutual facilities. He will be heard addressing guests at the 24th annual fete of the American-Russian Institute.

All times given are Eastern Standard Time. Erroneous listings, if any, are caused by last-minute changes made by stations and networks.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"THERE'S only one solution of the Bickett problem," I said slowly, with the happy but wistful faces of Katharine and Jack before me, as they had come back to us from putting Faith to bed.

"Adopting a child, I suppose," Dicky said.

"Of course," I answered. "It's the only thing they can do."

"How are they going to manage it, when Jack is likely to be shuttled to and fro all over the global map?"

"What difference will that make?" I countered. "Katharine's no clinging vine. She can take care of a child even if Jack is gone part of the time, and her awful loneliness will be assuaged. And, of course, sometimes, she and the child can join him."

"Not in some of the God-forsaken places he'll be sent."

"No, but some of the places will be all right. Of course she can't go while the baby is small, but in a year or two, she could travel with it."

Dicky tipped my chin—I was still nestled in his arms in the big arm chair at the door of Mary's room—and smiled quizzically down at me.

"Got it all doped out to the last comma and semi-colon, haven't you?" he teased.

"I ought to!" I retorted. "I've been worrying about the problem long enough."

Will Solve It

"I'll bank on you to solve it with a flourish the first chance you get," he said. "And I wouldn't put it past you to find a set of twins or triplets for Katrina and old Jack."

"I wish I could," I told him undauntedly, adding sententiously: "No child should be brought up alone. How wonderful it would be, for instance, if Faith had a twin sister or brother!"

"Hey!" Dicky exclaimed in alarm, then lowered his voice with a quick chagrined look toward his sleping niece. "I wouldn't want any other child, even ours, taking even a fraction of Faith's place! That's hers, all to herself. Look here! You haven't any sneaking idea of adopting another child Faith's age?"

"No, darling," I said, laughing at his alarmed face. "I haven't the slightest desire to plunge headlong into a revolutionary uprising."

"Well, I'm glad to hear that," he said, with an exaggerated sigh of relief. "And, lady, a revolutionary uprising would be smooth lentil soup beside what you'd be up against if you gave Faith an adopted sister."

Too Old For That

"Yes, she's too old for that now," I agreed ruefully.

"And too spoiled," Dicky added shrewdly. "But just please remember, I want her, spoiled or not, exactly as she is, with no rivals.

"But look here," he went on quickly, giving me no chance to answer. "What's the use of wasting time discussing an academic question when we have something vital on the tapis?"

He hesitated, shot another glance at me, and then spoke tensely.

"Have you any idea what's eating Mary?" he asked.

I lifted my face and looked at him steadily.

"Yes, I think I know what it is she fears," I said slowly, "and I am very sure you have surmised the same answer to the problem that I have. But do you think we have any right even to speak of it until Mary tells us herself, or—"

Uncontrollable Shudder

"Or," Mary's uncle took me up bleakly, "until the poor kid goes completely off her nut and slides out under her own power. Sorry, Sweet!" as I gave an uncontrollable little shudder. "I was a Gadarene swine to bring that up. And I'm counting on you to straighten Mary out, just the same as everybody else is, from old Doc Twitchell down and up. But if you're to turn that little trick, you've got to get some sleep under those eyelids.

"Now, I don't want any 'ifs' or 'ands,'" he went on. "Get into that other room and toss me out the things to make up a bed on that couch, and dont send any aspersions, verbal or mental, in my direction. I'll make you up the niftiest bed you ever saw in three minutes flat, and I want you out here in our night things, ready to tumble into it in the same three minutes. Oh, yes, you may bring your negligee and slippers. But step on it!"

I knew he was "talking tough," as Junior would say, in order to divert my mind from the gruesome picture he had painted. But I also knew that he was adamant about his taking the first watch over Mary, and with an elaborately meek, "Ya'as, Massa!" I slipped off his lap, and went into the bedroom, coming back almost immediately with the bedclothing for which he had asked.
